(November 2008):

Use of data obtained from the textbook semester file is limited to that identified in this document. Instructors may initially provide information and make updates at various times. The data file is refreshed periodically. Textbook files contain all active sections for a semester or term, including notation as to finalized and un-finalized textbook data. Un-finalized textbook data, noted by an "N" in the display column, is neither final nor ready for display to students and the general public. Bookstores may use un-finalized textbook data to advise and conduct research on behalf of an instructor.
